

AUSTRALIAN INFLAMMATION CENTRES Symposium 2024

The Australian Inflammation Centres (AIC) brings together inflammation researchers from nine major sites nationally: WEHI, Centenary UTS, Monash University's Centre for Inflammatory Diseases, Hudson Institute's Centre for Innate Immunity and Infectious Diseases, the Institute for Molecular Bioscience at UQ, SAiGENCI at The University of Adelaide, Curtin University, ANU, and QIMR Berghofer.

This year, we have a dedicated AIC day on Sunday 24 November with amazing speakers from the member organisations.

Monday 25 November is a joint initiative with the ASI Innate Immunity and Immunometabolism Special Interest Groups.

Join us for either one or both days!
